

Orchard Gardens K-8 School Roxbury, Massachusetts

The 144,000 s.f., $25 million Orchard Gardens School was designed in association with TLCR of Boston. The project is a visual centerpiece of the new Orchard Garden Community and functions as an "Urban gateway" to the revitalized mixed income housing development. The facility includes state of the art science labs, a gymnasium, library, and a reading room in the tower element which boasts commanding views to downtown Boston.

Project Budget: $25 Million

Project Architect: Charles Bradley, III, AIA (as an employee of Stull and Lee Inc.)
